

SPANISH INTERNATIONAL APPRENTICES COMPETITION

For the ninth year in succession an international competition for apprentices in a variety of trades is to be held in Madrid in April. The purpose of the competition is to bring together apprentices of several nationalities who spend a fortnight in Madrid, their expenses being paid. During the fortnight's stay apprentices take part in contests each in his own trade, for which they are advised to bring their own hand tools. A number of visits to places of interest are also arranged.

Applications from British apprentices will this year be dealt with in the order in which they are received. They should be made by 15th February, 1956, in a form which may be obtained, together with full particulars of the competition from Mr. F. D. Hill, 5 Best Lane, Canterbury, Kent.
