Dear Mr. Gonthier:

In accordance with the agreement at the Technical Committee held between September 24 and 27, 1984 in Bern, I requested the Japan National Committee to discuss whether to introduce the "agricultural machine mechanics" and the "metal construction" as new competition trades.

As a result of their discussions, the Japan National Committee concluded that many problems remain to be solved in technical terms.

The committee also has a negative opinion regarding introducing these two trades. The committee determined that the two trades should not be included at the Osaka competition.

As in the above, I hereby inform you of the decision of the Japan National Committee.

Sincerely yours,
