

The Session's chairman, Mr. R. E. Seaton, was told had been in the town since

The master apprentices

B RITAIN'S team of young craftsmen came out on top last night at the end of the International Apprentices Competition—described officially as “the toughest yet.”

The young Britons collected nineteen medals—nine gold, five silver and five bronze — competing in Glasgow against Japan and eight European countries.

Japan, with thirteen medals, was second—and it was stressed that the Japanese had shown a complete mastery of radio and T V.

Spain was third and Germany fourth.