

JASON BRIDGE - U.K.

"Australia's great now the sun's out!"

SAM ALE - Papua New Guinea

"It's the first time Papua New Guinea has ever competed at the Skill Olympics, so we're learning as we go. It's hard work but I'm also having a good time."

FRANCESCO MARCIELLO - Switzerland

"Mitmachen kommt vor dem Rang."

"It's not so much how you score, participation is the most important thing of all."

YOUNG-WHA KIM - Korea

약간 더워서 애를 먹었으나 경기장 시설이
대체로 훌륭하였으며 호주국인들의 호응도 좋아
호주가 타국임을 느낄수 없었다.

"I was so impressed by good equipment and nice & big competition place. But it was little bit hot. Many Australian were very kind, so that I could feel Australia is just like my home."

A DREAM FULFILLED

Skill Olympics '88 is a dream fulfilled for Jack Dusseldorp and Bryan Jones, Australia's two representatives in the international Skill Olympics Organisation.

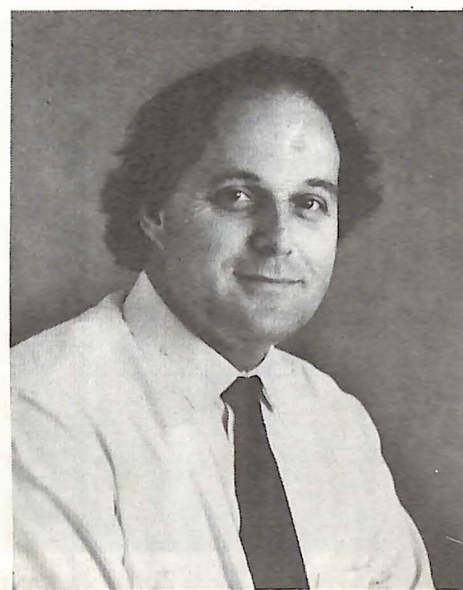

"When Bryan and I first saw this event in America in September '81, we were as amazed as people are who have visited the Exhibition Centre over the past few days.

"I remember we went off to have a coffee and talk over how we could bring the Skill Olympics to Australia. We sort of made a pact if you like, that we would work together and make it happen.

"With Bryan's technical know-how and my gift-of-the-gab, nothing was going to stop us!", exclaimed Jack Dusseldorp.

"But seriously, the overwhelming success of Skill Olympics '88 is the result of an enormous team effort. There are too many key individuals involved to name them all, but I know without the likes of Kerrie Stevens, Alan Grasset and Richard Jenkins, it would not have succeeded so well.

"To me the team-work has been the key ingredient. Not only in preparing for Skill Olympics '88, but in building up Work Skill Australia into a dynamic national operation. "You could say, like the song in the opening ceremony, that everybody in Work Skill Australia has had a dream and now it has been fulfilled," concluded Jack Dusseldorp.

John Gualtieri and Owen Shipp took their holidays to help out at Skill Olympics '88 and ended up working 18 hours a day.

JOACHIM DIEZ - Germany

"Es ist ein haiter Wettbewerb, aber ick werde mein bestes geben."
"It's hard work, but I'm giving it my best."

MARCEL VANIC — Austria

"Es handelt sich um einen Wettbewerb auf sehr hoher ebene + ich liebe Australien."
"There is a very high standard of competition here and I love Australia."

KANEMASA UEDA - Japan

"This city, Sydney is so beautiful and this Skill Olympics is so friendly that it is like a festival but unfortunately I'm competing."

JOHN MAHER — Ireland

"It's a marvellous opportunity to compare skills of the different countries — we're all learning from each other."
