BUCKINGHAM PALACE

August 27th
The Prince Edward, Chairman of The Duke of Edinburgh's Award Special Projects Group, visited the Midlands region today and was received on arrival by Colonel A B Griffiths (Deputy Lieutenant of West Midlands).

His Royal Highness subsequently opened the Birmingham Super Prix and attended a luncheon given by Birmingham City Council.

In the afternoon the Prince Edward visited Award Activities at the National Exhibition Centre and attended a reception at the Old Mill, Baginton.

His Royal Highness later opened the 30th International Youth Skill Olympics at the National Exhibition Centre Arena.

Captain William McLean was in attendance.

The Duchess of Gloucester will open the Lace Hall and Fashion Centre in Nottingham on Sept 28. Later she will open the new extension to Montagu Hospital, Mexborough, and meet members of AFASIC (Association for All Speech-Impaired Children) in Sheffield, South Yorkshire.

The Duchess of Kent will visit the Queen Victoria Hospital, East Grinstead, Sussex and unveil a painting to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Plastic Surgery and Facio-maxillary Unit on Sept 21.
