Lessons from St Gallen in respect of project selection and confidentiality

In consultation with a number of UK experts and colleagues I have been reflecting on what went wrong in St Gallen and on ways of preventing a recurrence and ensuring a fair competition in Montreal. The outcome is the attached paper which I hope will be helpful to yourself, Don, Daniel and the Canadians at your proposed meeting in Montreal at the end of February 1998.

I am copying it to Don Hatton, Daniel, Sommer and Carl Fileatreault, who with his colleagues has a particular interest in the matter, as well as to the IVTO President.
